

A diagram of a triangular lattice. A central region is shaded in light blue. Within this region, a dense grid of dark blue nodes is connected by thick blue lines. Several nodes are highlighted with larger white circles with dark blue outlines. The lattice extends beyond the shaded region into a lighter gray area with smaller, fainter nodes and lines.